DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 10/1/2009 has been entered.

Claim Objections

Claims 16-22 are objected to because of the following informalities: VCSEL should be delineated at last when used the first time in the claims. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Olszak et al (US 7,130,115 B2) in view of Hang (US 2001/0046712 A1). Olszak et al disclose a miniature confocal scanning system including point sources, multiple optical devices, and a scanning mechanism including rapid and slow scanning elements controlled by MEMS (Col 1 Line 1-Col 6 Line 15, Col 14 Line 50 – Col 15 Line 5). Additionally, Olszak et al disclose focusing/parallel beam structure (Microscope Arrays), disclose multiple optical devices capable of being controlled to move in directions perpendicular to the optical axis and scanning at various frequencies (Col 5 Line 5 – Col 6 Line 40), varying focus depth (Fig 15, Col 9 line 50-Col 10 Line 40) (Fig 10-12 and discussion for movement of elements and 15 for movement of the height of the focus), and is capable of coming in contact with the specimen (background on Arrays). Aperture sizing (Col 8 Line 25-Col 9 Line 15) including change of angle, diameter, distance and thickness, is disclosed as well as multi-fiber detection/emission systems.

Olszak et al disclose all that is listed above, but fail to mention VCSEL sources and does not disclose specific slow/fast axis scanning (though both perpendicular axes are disclosed). Attention is directed to the secondary reference to Hang which discloses (0057-0060) slow/fast adjustable scanning for an optical confocal microscopy system, as well as VCSEL lasers (and many other types of fibers, optical elements and connection elements, 0048-0055).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-22 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
